Course Description

The Energy Colloquium educates the audience in the present-day research and applications within the broader field of Energy Science and Technology. The Colloquium consists of a series of presentations by invited academic and industry speakers. The presentations target a nonspecialist audience.

All Master and Ph.D. students within the Energy Program are encouraged to attend the Energy Colloquium during the entire period of their studies.

Students can earn 1 credit, if he/she participates in the Energy Colloquium over the course of any 2 terms of the academic year. Students who passed one round can make next (for credit) over the course of their subsequent studies.
